Facebook Marketing

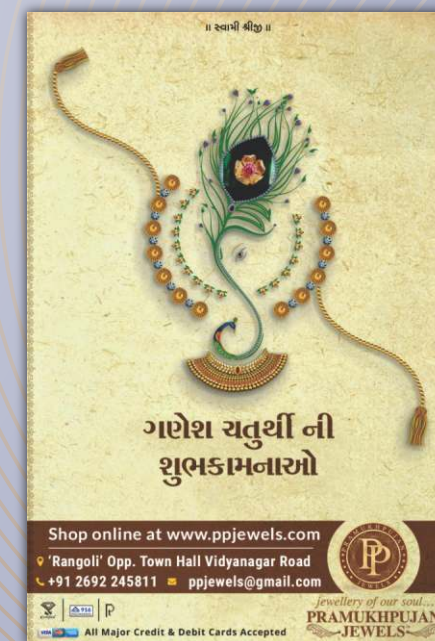

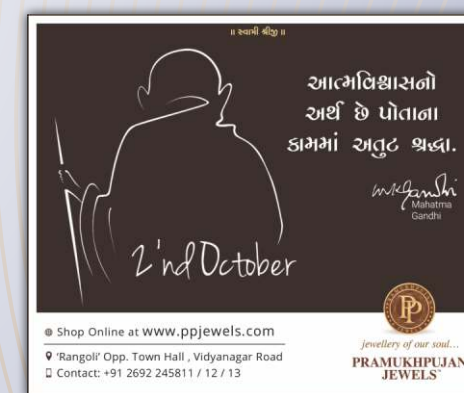

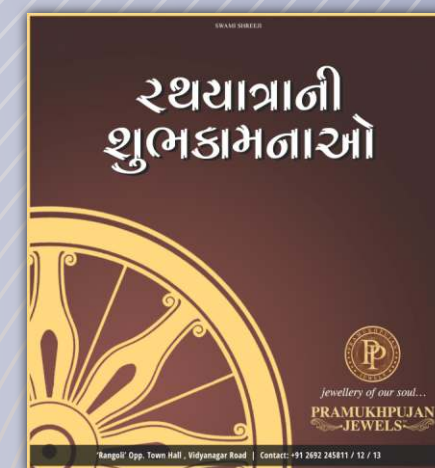

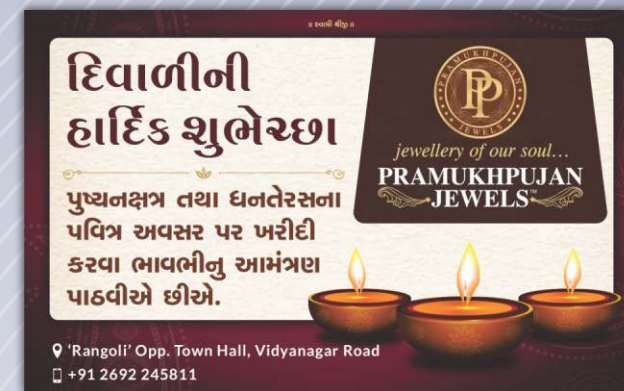

Social proof is an important part of building customer trust and confidence.

With such a large user base, ignoring Facebook really isn't an option for most marketers. You can bet your ideal market is using Facebook nearly every day. The question is: how do you target all of those users with your marketing?

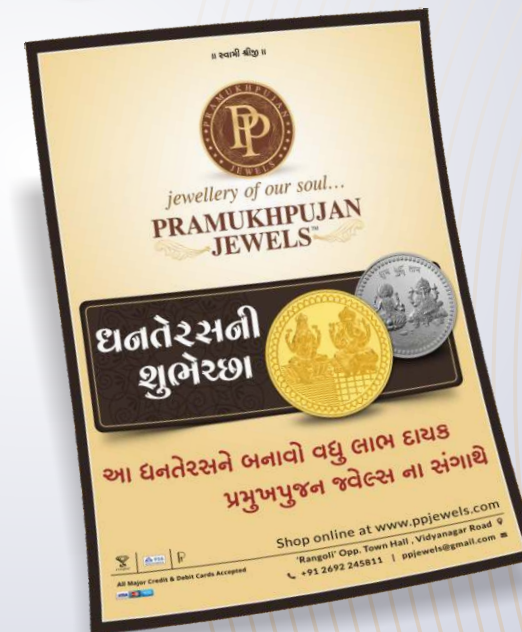

Festivals & Events Promotion

Graphic, Print Design & Promotional Design

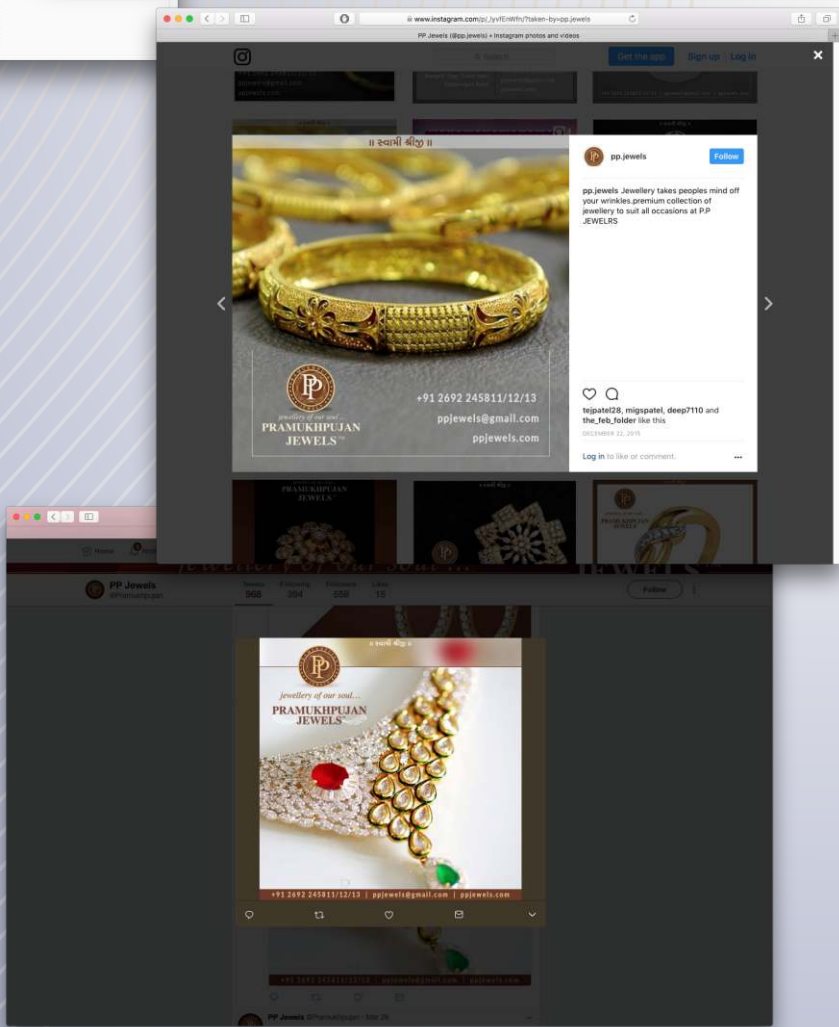

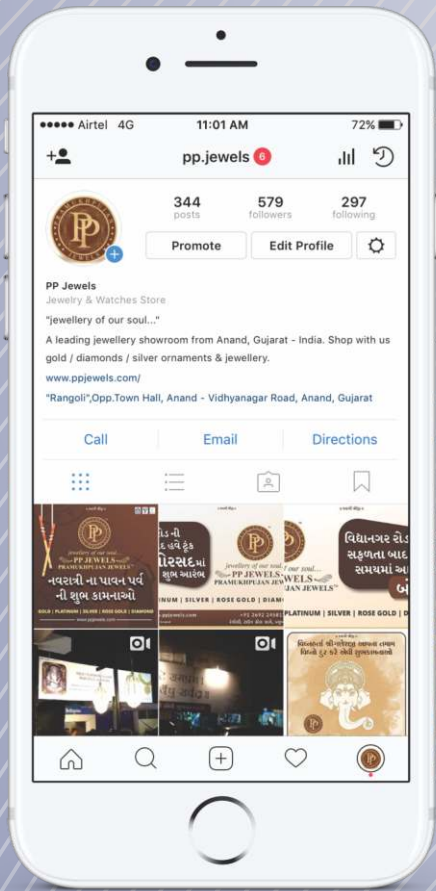

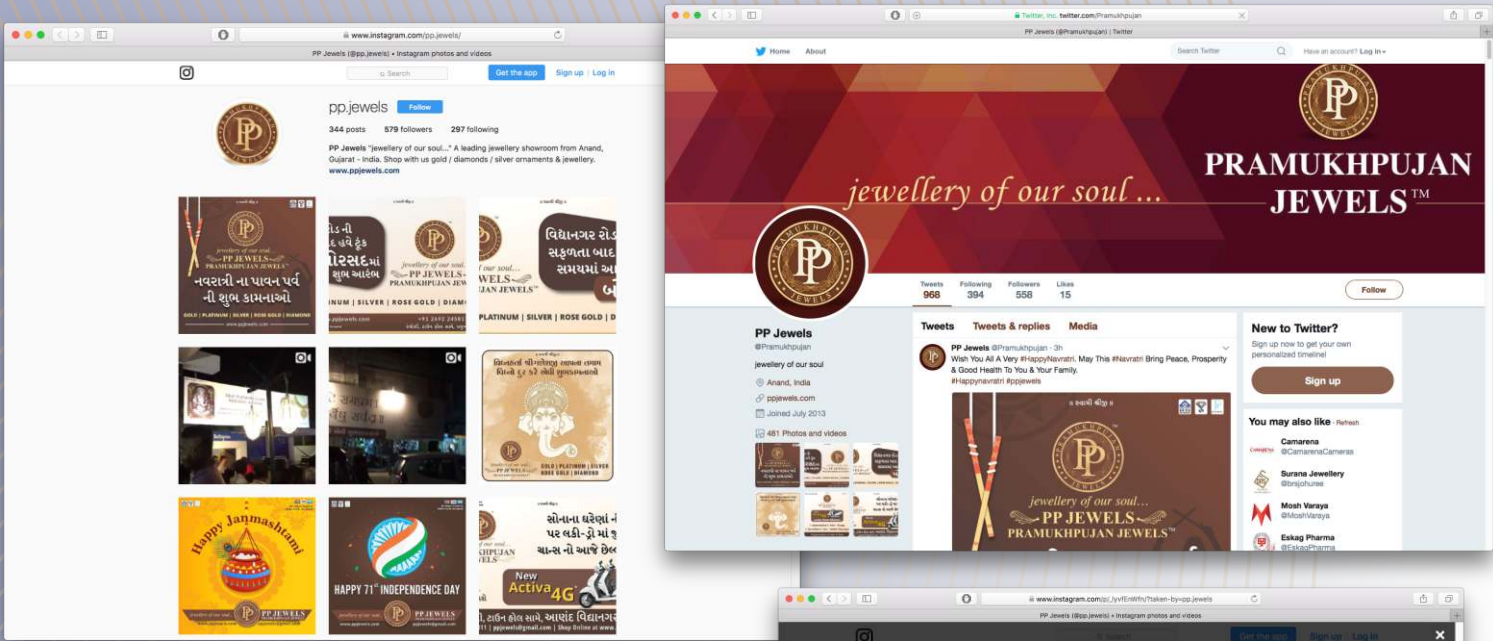

Design communicates brand.

Campaigns are about raising the profile of brands or moving customers in a specific direction to buy a company's products or services. One of the critical elements of getting people to buy is trust. Brands are essentially the way that customers code a specific offering in their minds: this brand represents quality and luxury, or this brand represents comfort and value.
